CHIEF EDUCATOR'S CIRCULAR.

State Superintendent Jones Issues a Call to County Subordinates.

THE OBJECT OF THE MEETING

The Official Vote For Judge of the bea and andicial District Supreme Court Doings Capital City Notes.

IFROM THE BER'S LINCOLN BUREAU. State Superintendent W. W. W. Jones has issued a circular letter to each of the county superintendents of the state, and | made is also mailing others to prominent concators in the state, to whom as a class, whether they are recipients of a circular or not the state superintendent extends a cordial invitation to be present. Mr. Jones, through his terms in the office, has always evinced much interest in systematic work, and has always aimed to bring together the different county officials for exchange of opinion and for a harmony in school work over the state entire. This will, therefore, be the final annual meeting in which Mr. Jones will officially act. The following is the circular letter issued yesterday:

OFFICE SUPERINTENDEST PUBLIC (Instruction, Lincoln, Nov. 23.

A meeting of the county superinten-dents is hereby carled to meet at this office, commencing December 21 at 3 om, and continuing through the 224 and longer if desired. Suggested topics: What restrictions as to time should be placed upon the formation of new dis-tricts and upon the division of districts? What restriction in regard to change of site? Will a change at the time of making the state apportionment help the existing difficulty in regard to making annual and census reports? What shall we do toward getting a uniform course of study in county What changes are required in our in Come prepared to place before the meeting any matter that should in your opinion be discussed. I expect to receive reduced rates upon railroads and will give you due notice. Sincere vours. W.W. W. JONES. yours,

THE OFFICIAL VOTE on the election of judge in the Second judicial district, the only judge voted for in the late election, was made by the canvassing board Monday. This board consists of the governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney general and auditor of public accounts. It will be remembered that no candidate was nominated against Hon. Sam M. Chapman, of Cass for the position, and his vote and scattering ones were as follows: Sam M. Chapman 8,020, R. H. Dickey 6, M. L. Hayward 72, W. W. English 1, Ed-ward F. Warren 10, T. B. Stayenson 1, C. H. Van Wyck 2, J. M. Higgins 1, Wil-lett Pottenger 1, Philo Butts 2. This scattering vote is illustrative of the freaks a pencil will take in a scratcher's hand on election day. The one vote cast for Squire Pottenger came from Rock Bluffs

NOTES AT THE STATE HOUSE. The museum of war relies in the office of the secretary of state has been en-riched by donations from Brad P. Cook, the relies including the chevrons worn by him as sergeant of the Fifty sixth Massachusetts regiment, a bayonet picked up from the battlelield of the Wilderness, and a specimen of crater clay from the mine that was exploded before Petersburg The relies have been duly catalogued by Major Franklin. Manager Fitch, of the Fremont, Eik horn & Missouri Valley line, has written to the railroad commissioners that his company has commenced the construction of a depot building at Newport, in Brown county. This is the complaint filed some time ago by citizens there, and the railroad has evidently found it convenient to themselves to put it in. The board of public lands and buildings are making arrangements to visit Kearney Friday or Saturday to inspect the new works at the reform school.

Ben Cowdry, of the railroad commis sion, was at his room yesterday. He passed a twenty-four hour blockade in snow bank on the Columbus train in the late storm, going without wood and water for the time.

Brad P. Cook, who has been laid up for several months past with sickness, is so far recovered as to be able to resume work at his desk in the office of the commissioner of lands and buildings.

The secretary of state is daily receiving official statements of lists of county officers over the state that will be re corded in his biennial report.

School bonds from districts in Holt, Furdas, Buffalo and Nuckells counties were passing through the routine of the records in the secretary's office yester-day. SUPREME COURT DOINGS.

Dr. Hart is attending her, and the wound is reported as a horrible one, extending across the forehead from the eye backward just in front of the temple. The girl has formerly lived at Council Bluffs, where her parents now reside, and are respectable people, but are evidently in ignorance of the present trouble, which rumor states originated between the girl and her solid man, and if all reports that can be obtained are at all reliable the assault was a cowardly one, and the weapon, a beer bettle in the breds, if man could easily bottle, in the hands of a man could easily be made a deadly one. Dr. Lane was seen vesterday afternoon and he reported that the giri was in a critical condition. Evidently there is good ground for an

RETIREMENTS.

A Continuation of the List, Compiled by General Brisbin for the Bee.

INFORMATION. INTERESTING

Dates on Which Each Field Officer and Captain of Cavalry Now on the Active List Will be Rettred.

FT. NIOBRARA, Neb., Nov. 16. -[Correpondence of the BEE 1-A year ago tals month I wrote and published in the Chicago Tribune a paper on the army which was copied into the BEE. The object of the paper was to show our congressmen that the army needed no new legislation on the subject of retirements, except to make the law for compulsory retirements take effect when officers be came sixty-two years of age in-tead of sixty-four as at present. The paper was severely critizised as "misleading and holding out false hopes of promotion to the junior officers of the army." That

"Now if we go into the next year, 1886, we find five (5) colonels of infantry will be retired by compalsory retirement, being sixty-four years of age, part of the paper which was most severely condemned was the follow-

Gilbert, March 1, 1886, Wilkins, August 1, 1886, Potter, October 12, 1886, Whistier, October 15, 188 Whistier, October 15, 1886, Bradley, December 13, 1886.

So we will have five new colonels of infantry certain next year, Chambers Yard Bliss Gibson and Anderson. So, too, we will have five new licutement colonels in infantry, Smith, Poland, Pearson, Jordan and Jewett, These in turn will give us five new captains, five new first fleutenants and they will make room for five new second lieutenants. But compulsion retirements in 1886 will be the only cause of promotion. Death, sickness and voluntary retirements will as usual swell the list so that we shall likely have in 1886, seven new colonels, eight new lieutenant colonels, new majors, fifteen new captains and eighteen new first lieutenants in

This statement was thought to be extravagant and "misleading to congressmen as well as holding out false hopes to the juniors of the army." Well, the year 1886 has now nearly passed and we can see who was right and who was wrong. First, we have for new colonels, 1886. Lieutenant Colonel Chambers, vice Gilbert

Lieutenant Colonel Yard, vice Ruger, pro-Moted brigadier.
Lieutenant Colonel Bliss, vice Potter, pronoted brigadier. Lieutenant Colonel Gibson, vice Wilkins, Lieutenant Colonel Anderson, vice Hunt, lied. Lieutenant Colonel Townsend, vice Wil-

Lieutenant Colonel Crofton, vice Whistler, tired. There will still be one promotion to the grade of colonel in this year, viz: Lieutenant Colonel Robert La Motte, vice colonel Luther P. Bradley, who retires December 13, 1886, being sixty-four years of age. So we will have eight new col-ox, promoted brigadier.

onels of infantry in 1886 instead of seven, as I predicted. Now, if we go into the lieutenant Major Poland, vice Chambers, promoted

Major Jordan, vice Bliss, promoted colonel, Major Jewett, vice Gioson, promoted Major Brayton, vice Anderson, promoted

Pearson, vice Yard, promoted

Major Bush, vice Townsend, prome Major olonel. Bates, vice Crofton, promoted Continuing to the list of captains, we Captain Brady, major, vice Lieutenant Colonel Poland promoted lieutenant colonel. Captain Andrews, major, vice Lieutenant Colonel Pearson promoted lieutenant colonel. Captain Head, major, vice Lieutenant Colonel.

Captain Head, major, vice Lieutenant Colonel Jordan promoted lieutenant colonel.
Captain Parke, major, vice Lieutenant Colonel Jewett promoted lieutenant colonel.
Captain Theaker, major, vice Lieutenant Colonel Brayton promoted lieutenant colonel.
Captain Lyster, major, vice Lieutenant Colonel Bush promoted lieutenant colonel.
Captain Vanvalzah, major, vice Lieutenant Colonel Bates promoted fleutenant colonel.
Captain Wikoff to be promoted, vice Drum to be promoted lieutenant colonel.
This falls two short.

If we look at the captains of infantry, lowever, we find that Brady, Andrews, Head, Parke, Theaker, Lyster, Vanval-zah, Stacey, Schwan, Clous, Jackson, Beach, Murdock, Courtney, McDonald, Evans, Mitchell and Whitney have all disappeared from the list of captains in 1886. There are eighteen of them instead of fifteen as I predicted. The subject need be pursued no further in infantry as the eighteen captains make com for eighteen first lientenants, who, I claim, would receive their captaincies in 1886, in infantry.

Do not understand me as objecting to be criticized. I like that, only I prefer to have the critic know more than I do and correct me when I make mistakes instend of blundering worse than the one he assumes to criticize. The officer (and he must have been an officer for no civilian could write as he did) who assumed to reply to my paper on the army written last November did not know what he was saying about promotions and I think he will now admit it himself. He w s as far off on the cavalry and ar-tillery as he was on the infantry, but quite correct on the staff corps, from which fact I surmise he belonged to that corps. We will not quarrel, however, and I promise him the "prophet" will not prophecy for 1887, but leave it all to him to inform us what promotions we may expect in the next year. Since the BEE published the long fist of army retirements I sent it. I have had many inquiries from officers of the army as to the remainder of the list. It is no small labor to get up a correct list, but I am now compiling one from 1896 to 1906 inclusive, and as soon as it is completed I will send it to the BEE. Those interested can look out for it in about two weeks. Most of the inquiries about dates of retirements come from the cavairy and as I have about completed the field officers and captains of cavalry, 1 will append their retirements hereto: Dates of retirements of field officers of the eavairy corps, United States army.
